Case Study

RTE TG4 Local, European and Divorce Referendum Exit Poll

Published by: Posted by RED C RESEARCH

The RTE TG4 exit poll is predicting wide spread gains for Green party both in the local elections, and also for three candidates in the European Elections. Fine Gael look likely to do well in the European Elections, topping the poll in both the South and Midlands North West constituencies, and coming second in the Dublin constituency. There is a chance that the party could secure four seats. Fianna Fail look on course to secure a seat in the South constituency, and also a chance to secure a seat in the Dublin constituency, while retaining a similar level of seats in the local elections. Sinn Fein could also secure three seats in the European Elections, but their vote share is predicted to be down in both these and the Local Elections. The Divorce Referendum ……..MORE

FAQ's

Logged out of a Survey

Please remember that you can now log back into a survey if you are unable to complete it in one sitting, or if you are logged out due to a technical fault or a server error. We hope this will improve your experience of RedClive. If you are logged out, please wait for at least 15-20 minutes before you attempt to log back in.

Quality Control

We would like to remind you that our reputation as a leading market research company is based on the accuracy and validity of the data we provide to our clients.

To ensure members do not complete surveys hurriedly or provide incorrect information, a series of check questions are included at intervals. These inbuilt quality control questions appear on every survey and are administered to everyone equally. Answers provided by members who failed the Quality Control check are not included in the survey results.

We appreciate that this can be frustrating when a genuine mistake is made, however, we are unable to make exceptions to the mechanisms and allow members to go back and change their answers, so please take extra care to avoid being screened out of surveys.

Reporting issues with surveys

If you encounter an error or a problem when taking part in a survey, such as the screen freezing or otherwise, please forward us the original survey invite, along with a screen shot of the error, where applicable, to info@redclive.ie
